National Centre for Liturgy: Over the years, the National Centre for Liturgy has conducted courses in Pastoral Liturgy and Ministry on Monday's and Tuesday's, with classes in the morning and afternoon. They have proved very successful, offering people a deeper insight to the ministry they exercise, helping them to understand better the liturgy they have a responsibility in preparing, and a personal enrichment of the ways of Christian worship. We are planning for the next academic year which begins in September 2017. The courses are offered at different levels: Diploma, Higher Diploma and Masters in Theology, specialising in Liturgy. The awards are accredited by the Pontifical University, St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, Co. Kildare. The courses provide training for those who wish to prepare for parish ministry, and who may be called upon to undertake roles of leadership and formation in various pastoral areas. These areas include celebrating the Liturgy of the Word, leading prayer when the Eucharist is not celebrated, Baptismal teams, Funeral ministry teams and other liturgical ministries. For more information please contact The National Centre for Liturgy, St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, Co Kildare on 01-7083478 or email liturgy@spcm.ie. Details are also available online at www.liturgy-ireland.ie

The History of Palm Sunday: The celebration of Palm Sunday originated in the Jerusalem Church, around the late fourth century. The early Palm Sunday ceremony consisted of prayers, hymns, and sermons recited by the clergy while the people walked to various holy sites throughout the city. At the final site, the place where Christ ascended into heaven, the clergy would read from the gospels concerning the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem. In the early evening they would return to the city reciting: "Blessed is He that comes in the name of the Lord." The children would carry palm and olive branches as the people returned through the city back to the church, where they would hold evening services. By the fifth century, the Palm Sunday celebration had spread as far as Constantinople. Changes made in the 6th and 7th centuries resulted in two new Palm Sunday traditions – the first being the ritual blessing of the palms, and then a morning procession instead of an evening one. Adopted by the Western Church in the eighth century, the celebration received the name "Dominica in Palmis," or "Palm Sunday" as it is known today.

The Meaning of Palm Sunday: Palm Sunday commemorates the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover. The Gospels record the arrival of Jesus riding into the city on a donkey, while the crowds spread their cloaks and palm branches on the street and shouted "Hosanna to the Son of David" and "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord" to honour him as their long-awaited Messiah and King. The significance of Jesus riding a donkey and having his way paved with palm branches is a fulfilment of a prophecy spoken by the prophet Zechariah (Zechariah 9:9). In biblical times, the regional custom called for kings and nobles arriving in procession to ride on the back of a donkey. The donkey was a symbol of peace; those who rode upon them proclaimed peaceful intentions. The laying of palm branches indicated that the king or dignitary was arriving in victory or triumph.

Palm Sunday in Modern Times: Today, Palm Sunday traditions are much the same as they have been since the tenth century. The ceremony begins with the blessing of the palms. The procession follows, then Mass is celebrated, wherein the Passion and the Benediction are sung. Afterwards, many people take the palms home and place them in houses, barns, and fields. In some countries, palms are placed on the graves of the departed. In colder northern climates, where palm trees are not found, branches of yew, willow, and sallow trees are used. The palms blessed in the ceremony are burned at the end of the day. The ashes are then preserved for next year's Ash Wednesday celebration. In the simplest of terms, Palm Sunday is an occasion for reflecting on the final week of Jesus' life. It is a time for Christians to prepare their hearts for the joy of His Resurrection.
