Graveyard Bins: It has come to our attention that the bins in the graveyard are not being used properly; people are putting flowers, clay in pots, black bags etc in the recycle bin. The dark green bin is for waste rubbish only, and the light green bin is for recycle waste. The county council will not empty the bins if the wrong waste is in them, thank you for your cooperation.

Carbury Community Garden: Why do we always think of Woodie Guthrie when we need some help? Because he was all for justice for the common man or woman. When he saw an injustice he spoke out or sang a song about it, so we have his most famous song, “This land is your land, this land is my land”.

The Community Garden in Carbury hold an open door for everyone, nothing could be fairer. However, unfortunately is suffering a grave injustice. It is being vandalised on a serious scale, a picnic table ended up in the stream, the beautiful notice board has been pulled down, and only last Sunday the garden fence was pulled down. We have consulted with many people of the Parish and sought help from the Authorities as to what to do.

It seems that the best advice we can get is to put up a camera, and name and shame. The U.N. Declaration of Human Rights has a clause that says both People and Communities have a right to protect their legitimately held property. The Community Garden Committee are entitled to that protection, it is their God given right.

Woodie Guthrie would Amen to that; he hated injustice of any kind.

We are looking forward to a good year next year, with the Covid behind us please God, and our garden furniture restored to its rightful place.

The Community Garden Committee

November Remembrance A reminder, an invitation and some ideas

This year has been unlike any other in the manner in which we have been able to mark the deaths of loved ones and members of our parish communities. Parishes have done their utmost to continue to offer the support of the Church and the consolation of our faith under very restrictive conditions. The Christian belief in the resurrection, which transforms our understanding of the meaning of death, has continued to be proclaimed and shared with those who mourn. Parishes have continued to accompany families in their time of grief. As we approach the month of November, we know that it stands out as a month when parishes actively reach out to the bereaved and offer them the consolation of prayer and support, especially through the celebration of the Mass. This year, in the midst of a pandemic which has made the grieving process so much more difficult for people, parishes are being invited to continue to reach out to families in prayerful and practical ways. While the burden on parish life is great at this time, this outreach of support and care goes to the heart of our mission as a Church to bring Christ’s consoling love to those who need it. Because of this, the Diocesan Commission for Liturgical Formation is asking parish teams, funeral ministry teams, liturgy groups and/or parish pastoral councils to look to their own particular circumstances and to discern what is appropriate and possible for them to do locally to continue this November remembrance of the dead and to reach out to families who have suffered bereavement in the past year. The commission is providing the following as ideas that may be taken for use or may trigger other local

Staying Connected: Many parish and diocesan groups have stayed connected via apps such as Zoom. If you are a member of a parish pastoral council, baptism team, liturgy group, choir, funeral ministry team or other parish group and haven’t yet explored this possibility, perhaps now is the time to do so. Never before has it been as important to stay connected and to support one another. Our parish groups do not have to stop but we might have to be creative in helping them function for the time being. There are people in every parish who have the tech skills. So send out the call for help and you might be pleasantly surprised!

Living Well: This is a free group online Self-Management programme for adults with long-term health conditions. For more information please contact Ciara number 087 4088325 email: SelfManagementSupportsSECH@hse.ie Website: www.hse.ie/LivingWell
